INSTITUTIONAL BEST PRACTICES

7.2 Best Practices

7.2.1 - Describe at least two institutional best practices.

In the present day scenario the fast paced educational innovations become necessary for continuous improvement. At times there is hesitation on the part of some institutions to share their best practices data. In the present age of information explosion the institutes play not just an important learning support function, but the best practice itself has been emerging as a site of learning some times more important than even the class room. There are numerous innovative practices, but a few have been considered for the overall enhancement of the institutional effectiveness. The Best Practices that have been conducted in the College are good. The first is Merit Scholarship and the other one is Cataract Surgery and Spectacles Distribution to old people in surrounding Villages. The best practice discusses the socialization of higher education with respect to education. There are both push and pull factors that Contribute to the growth in number of Indian students seeking higher education Overseas. Any discussion of best practices of higher education must take into account the role of the General Agreement of social framework and the Status of commitment made in this sector, including India's negotiating stance in higher Education and the associated implications.

Because of this merit scholarship students compete among themselves and naturally they stick to the habit of study.

The practice is being run in this institute since its establishment i.e. 21 June, 1999. This practice is organized regularly in the college on the occasion of Annual Prize Distribution of the institute in the presence of founder president Adv. Hon. Sadashivrao (Bhau) Patil.
